KNOW THE SCORE

A MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

By using this Scorecard, you've taken the first step towards protecting Oregon's environment: Knowing the Score.

Did your representative vote to clean up the Willamette or to give more tax breaks to polluters? Did your senator vote to help developers and make it harder for neighborhoods to fight sprawl?

Only citizens willing to research how their legislators vote can hold those officials accountable when they run for reelection. Don't rely on the candidate's campaign rhetoric — rely upon independent, non-partisan organizations like OLCV that track the legislature every day.

This Scorecard provides you two tools to Know the Score.

At the detailed level, it allows you to learn how your legislators voted on more than a dozen specific, high profile environmental bills considered by the 2001 Legislature.

At the general level, it allows you to learn their overall score — the percentage of time they voted pro-environment on key bills.

Knowing the Score is just the first step. Citizens who care about Oregon's environment need to follow it up with action.

If your legislators did well, write to them and thank them. Conversely, if they did poorly, write to express your concern. Contact information is included in the back.

Join or volunteer with the Oregon League of Conservation Voters, the political arm of Oregon's environmental movement. You can contribute or volunteer by filling out the form in the back of this Scorecard, calling us at 503-224-4011, or by checking out our web page, www.olcv.org. Your donations will give OLCV the resources to educate more voters about their elected officials.

Take action with your vote by supporting pro-environment candidates at the local, state, and federal level.

Former Governor Tom McCall said any citizen who decides to take responsibility for the future of their community is a hero. Citizens who know the score and take action are the heroes we need if we are to protect the Oregon we love for future generations.

ABOUT THE OLCV SCORECARD

he 2001 OLCV Environmental Scorecard for the Oregon Legislature is our 15th Scorecard. Previous editions have covered every legislative session since 1973.

The goal of the Scorecard is to provide objective, factual information about the voting records of Oregon's Senators and Representatives. OLCV's mission is to educate the public about the environmental voting records of elected officials and to hold those decision-makers accountable.

HOW THE 2001 SCORECARD VOTES WERE CHOSEN

Experts from Oregon's environmental organizations made nominations to OLCV suggesting what votes should be included in the Scorecard. A volunteer committee then reviewed those nominations to identify votes that (1) best reflected a clear choice about whether or not to protect the environment, (2) represented a cross-section of the major environmental issues addressed during the session, and (3) were viewed during the session as important by a range of conservation organizations.

The Scorecard is designed to provide voters with information to separate true stewards of Oregon's environment from those who just talk about it.

Therefore, the Scorecard only includes votes where there was a significant lobbying effort by conservationists as well as opponents, making it known to legislators that they were facing a clear choice between a pro-environment or anti-environment vote. As a result, unanimous votes were excluded. Additionally, based on long-standing policy, OLCV does not score votes where, because of the nature of the lobbying effort, there was some apparent confusion regarding a bill's impact on the environment.

The final decision on what votes to score was made by OLCV's Board of Directors. We wish to thank the many volunteers who helped compile and review the Scorecard for their valuable input.

OVERVIEW OF THE 2001 SESSION

The term "neglect" was used by conservationists at the end of the session to describe the 2001 Legislature's approach to Oregon's water, air, land, and wildlife. While this may be a slight improvement over the 1999 session's "abuse" of the environment, it is clear that voters must elect more legislators committed to environmental stewardship before the Legislature will pass significant reforms to improve our quality of life.

When looking at the results of the 2001 session, a few themes become clear.

- The Legislature continued to assault Oregon's land use system. Though fewer overall bills were forwarded threatening land use protections, the attacks continued to enhance the power of builders and developers and reduce the power of citizens. These bills would cause Oregon to lose more farm and forestland and Oregonians would spend more time stuck in sprawl-induced traffic. Unfortunately, Governor Kitzhaber signed two of the five land use bills scored.
- The Legislature was far more antiwildlife than in recent sessions, adopting proposals that threatened salmon, migratory waterfowl, and endangered wolves. Even the state Endangered Species Act came under assault.
- Often, the Legislature failed to act on critical environmental problems by choosing to delay action or study the problem. In the next two years, Oregonians should expect nearly 4.9 million used tires to wind up in landfills because legislators chose to conduct a study rather than adopting common sense reforms that would have jump-started tire recycling in the state.
- For the fourth straight session, the Legislature failed to clean up Oregon's waterways. A bill that would have made a good start in cleaning up the Willamette River failed by one vote on the House floor. Other significant clean water reforms failed to even be considered. Many legislators continue to insist that they are pro-clean water, even as they vote against efforts to clean up waterways.

In the end, the Legislature gets a failing grade for their voting performance. The overall average score for both chambers was a mere 45%. This is a modest improvement over 1999, which was considered one of the worst sessions in recent history for Oregon's environment. The House improved by 2% and the Senate improved by a larger 7%.

Because there was less action on key environmental issues, there were fewer bills to score this session. Where the 1999 Scorecard included 30 separate votes, more than ever before, the 2001 Scorecard includes 18 separate votes, 17 in the House, 13 in the Senate. Still, only three of the votes scored represent pro-environment bills allowed to come to the House or Senate floor, and just two of these passed.

In addition, there were fewer antienvironmental bills facing Governor Kitzhaber, primarily because legislative leaders by and large chose not to forward bills to the Governor that were sure to receive a veto. Therefore, many anti-environment bills that likely would have passed actually died in committee, under the threat of a likely veto.

In all, Kitzhaber vetoed nine separate anti-environment bills, as compared to 23 bills in 1999. Unfortunately, the Governor also signed several anti-environment bills, four of which warranted inclusion in the Scorecard.

Finally, the legislature continues to exhibit serious partisanship on a broad range of issues, of which the environment is only one. As a result, few Republicans were willing to buck their party leaders and vote pro-environment. Just one Republican scored better than 45%. In contrast, only four Democrats scored 45% or worse.

The efforts of the 2001 Oregon legislature to weaken protections for Oregon's land, air, water and wildlife are out of step with most Oregonians. Poll after poll show that a substantial majority of Oregonians oppose efforts to weaken or relax these protections.

LOOKING AHEAD: REDISTRICTING

Every 10 years, following the census update, the legislature must redistrict (draw new lines for) the congressional and state legislative districts. The goals are to ensure that redrawn districts do the following as best as possible: represent equal population, be contiguous, keep communities of interest connected, respect current geographic and political boundaries, and transportation links, not favor a particular political party or legislator, and not dilute the voting strength of a minority group.

Since the 2001 Legislature could not agree on a plan, the responsibility for redistricting the legislative districts fell to the Secretary of State, Bill Bradbury (the responsibility for the congressional districts falls directly to the courts).

Bradbury released his final redistricting plan and maps on August 15, 2001. The maps can be viewed at www.sos.state.or.us/redistrict/redistrict.htm.

The plan has been legally challenged. The Supreme Court must make a decision on the legality of the plan (and if there are any changes, provide new maps) by December 15, 2001. At that time, Oregon will have a new set of legislative districts in place for the next ten years.

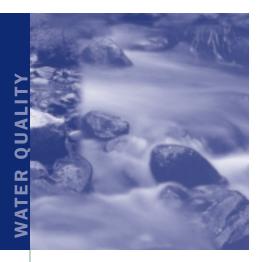

WHO REPRESENTS YOU

To find out your district number and who represented you during the 2001 session, call OLCV at 503-224-4011 or call your county elections office (in the blue pages of the phone book).

After January 2002, when redistricting is complete, registered voters will receive a new voter registration card with your district and precinct information. If you don't receive a new card or have questions, call OLCV or your county elections office again.

HOUSE AND SENATE VOTE DESCRIPTIONS

WATER QUALITY

VOTE 1: HB 3344WEAKENING WATER
QUALITY MANAGEMENT

House Bill 3344 would have "redefined science," making it more time consuming and expensive for the state to prove that agricultural activities are harming water quality, as they relate to Senate Bill 1010 water quality cleanup plans. SB 1010 passed in 1993 requiring certain landowners along streams to work with the state to develop water quality management plans. The goal is to bring the water quality of those streams into compliance with the federal Clean Water Act. HB 3344 would have made it more difficult to develop and implement management plans to bring water quality up to the standards of the Clean Water Act.

VOTE 2: SB 606PLACER MINING IN SCENIC WATERWAYS

Oregon's "wild and scenic" waterways were established and given certain protections through the passage of two initiatives (1970 and 1988). Under current law, a program that issues permits for recreational placer mining on the state's scenic waterways was set to expire. As voted on in the Senate, SB 606 would have allowed the program to continue indefinitely. These placer mining permits include the use of 16-horse power motorized mining equipment, a practice that has a negative impact on water quality, fish, and the scenic value of the waterway. The House amended the bill to only extend the program through 2005, so that a study of the impacts of this practice may go forward. However, the conservation community believes that there is already sufficient evidence to justify the complete elimination of this type of mining in wild and scenic waterways.

VOTE 3: HB 2010 Minority Report WILLAMETTE RIVER CLEAN-UP

The HB 2010 Minority Report would have replaced HB 2010 (see Vote 4 below). The Minority Report required the state to identify toxins that bioaccumulate in the food chain and to phase out their release into the Willamette River. Cleaning up the Willamette River has become a priority for Oregonians, as water quality has deteriorated in recent years and more communities are faced with the possibility of drinking water from the Willamette.

YES IS THE PRO-ENVIRONMENT VOTE.

☐ Failed in House, June 4, 29-31

VOTE 4: HB 2010 LETTING SUPERFUND POLLUTERS OFF THE HOOK

Because the minority report failed (see Vote 3 above), the original HB 2010 went forward. HB 2010 proposed a polluter bailout for property owners within the Portland Harbor Superfund site. It would have set up a new "Superfund District" in the Portland harbor and exempted property owners from paying property taxes. Instead, the owners would pay a "privilege" tax to pay for harbor cleanup. In the process, property taxes used to pay for public safety and environmental services, among other things, would be lost. Since most of the property owners in the proposed district are already liable to pay for cleanup under federal law, the net effect of the bill would have been to absolve many of the state's biggest polluters from the responsibility to pay for the pollution they created.

POLLUTION AND TOXICS

VOTE 5: SB 764

POLLUTER SUBSIDIES: EXTENDING THE POLLUTION CONTROL TAX CREDIT

The pollution control tax credit was established 30 years ago to help companies put pollution controls in place. Today, it continues to funnel tens of millions of dollars to companies merely for obeying pollution laws that have been on the books for many years. This effectively subsidizes heavily polluting companies at the expense of cleaner businesses. The current tax credit was scheduled to expire at the end of 2001. The Senate passed SB 764, which would have extended the credit until 2007.

The House amended SB 764 significantly. Instead of an outright extension, it phases out the credit over the next 5 years. Rather than a pure phase-out, the bill also establishes a new tax credit in 2002 for businesses that go "above and beyond" the requirements of the law. Unfortunately, the criteria for "above and beyond" are poorly and loosely defined. Conservationists expect that millions of dollars will continue to be funneled to projects that are not actually going beyond the letter of the law.

VOTE 6: HB 2816 MERCURY REDUCTION ACT: ORIGINAL BILL

Mercury is a persistent and toxic pollutant that threatens human health, especially children and pregnant women. There are fish consumption warnings due to mercury in nine Oregon lakes and rivers, including the main stem of the Willamette. The amount of mercury in just one thermometer is enough to contaminate a 20-acre lake.

HB 2816 proposed to reduce mercury by eliminating certain products where there are viable alternatives, such as auto switches, thermostats, and thermometers. After passing the House, the chair of the Senate Business, Labor and Economic Development Committee refused to give the bill a hearing, so it died in the Senate. The contents were then added to another related bill, HB 3007 (see Vote 7 below), which passed.

YES IS THE PRO-ENVIRONMENT VOTE.

- □ Passed House, May 3, 55-3
- □ Died in Senate

VOTE 7: HB 3007 MERCURY REDUCTION ACT: FINAL BILL

When HB 2816 failed to move out of Senate committee, the contents of the bill were added in a separate committee to a different, but related bill. The new bill, HB 3007, included the bulk of the original bill. It received a fair hearing, moved out of committee, and passed.

WILDLIFE

VOTE 8: HB 3981 WEAKENING THE ENDANGERED SPECIES ACT

HB 3981, in its final form, would have created an Economic and Social Impact Report Team for each species that the State Fish and Wildlife Commission considers for endangered or threatened listing. It would have required the team to provide extensive and costly reports on the economic and social impacts of a listing and would require the Commission to consider the report before it could grant a listing. In addition, the bill would have allowed energy facility siting councils to disregard the effects of proposed new energy facilities on endangered species.

HB 3981 would have significantly weakened the state Endangered Species Act by departing from using the fundamental biological status of the species as the basis of a decision to list any species. The Commission also lacked the budget to engage in the studies necessary to consider a listing without diverting money from other essential efforts to protect wildlife.

- ☐ Passed House, July 1, 34-26
- □ Passed Senate, July 2, 18-12
- □ Vetoed by Governor

VOTE 9: HB 3808 HALTING NEW MIGRATORY BIRD REFUGES

Under the federal Migratory Bird Conservation Act, the state's permission is necessary for the federal government to purchase land for the purpose of establishing migratory bird or waterfowl refuges in a state. HB 3808 would have withdrawn the state's permission for any future purchases. This would have limited Oregon's ability to provide adequate habitat for waterfowl. New waterfowl refuges would also help reduce waterfowl damage to agricultural lands by providing alternative habitats.

NO IS THE PRO-ENVIRONMENT VOTE.

- □ Passed House, May 23, 36-24
- □ Passed Senate, June 26, 19-9
- □ Vetoed by Governor

VOTE 10: HB 3809PROTECTING WILD SALMON

Hatcheries are not sustainable without a steady infusion of wild genetic stock. Broadly accepted scientific standards call for maintaining strict separation between wild and hatchery salmon during spawning, to maintain the viability of wild populations. To maintain separation, hatchery workers capture returning hatchery salmon, kill them, and, when possible, use them for food. HB 3809 would have put a moratorium on this practice until 2003 while a panel of scientists reported back to the Legislature. This moratorium would threaten wild salmon during the next two years and would have put millions of dollars of federal research funds at risk.

NO IS THE PRO-ENVIRONMENT VOTE.

- □ Passed House, May 31, 32-26
- □ Passed Senate, July 5, 16-13
- □ Vetoed by Governor

VOTE 11: HB 3363 ERODING WOLF PROTECTIONS

HB 3363 would have classified wolf hybrids as predatory animals, making it legal to kill unlimited numbers of them by any "effective means" including, but not limited to, poisons, bullets, and traps. Because wolf hybrids are essentially indistinguishable from wolves, the bill would have put wild wolves at risk of being killed when they venture into Oregon. Wolves are a federally protected endangered species that are being reintroduced in Idaho. Recent sightings of wolves in Oregon provided the impetus for the Oregon Cattlemen's Association to request this bill.

LAND USE

VOTE 12: HB 3326NON-FARM DWELLINGS ON FARMLAND

HB 3326 overturns a series of good recent legal decisions by increasing the number of non-farm dwellings allowed in Exclusive Farm Use (EFU) zones outside the Willamette Valley. The bill allows up to two new dwellings unrelated to farming per farm parcel, which will contribute to significant rural sprawl. The effect will be the further fragmentation of farmland into ever-smaller parcels. HB 3326 is a serious rollback of farmland protection that could lead to hundreds of new houses unrelated to farming in Oregon's farm zones.

NO IS THE PRO-ENVIRONMENT VOTE.

- □ Passed House, May 25, 33-24
- □ Passed Senate, June 19, 24-2
- ☐ Signed by Governor

VOTE 13: HB 2714FARM INCOME TEST

Several years ago the state's Land Conservation and Development Commission (LCDC) adopted a test designed to determine when new farm dwellings could be built on farmland. The test was necessary because of a surge of people in the 1980s who bought farmland, built a so-called "farm dwelling," but then didn't actually farm. The test adopted by LCDC requires $80,000 in gross farm income to qualify for a farm dwelling on high value farmland. This test has succeeded in protecting Oregon's best farmland by reducing the number of phony farm dwellings in farm zones.

HB 2714 would have instead created a farm income "capability" test, allowing landowners to build a "farm dwelling" if they could merely show the land was capable of being farmed. This is similar to the old standard that failed to stop the building of "McMansions" on high value farmland.

NO IS THE PRO-ENVIRONMENT VOTE.

- □ Passed House, June 5, 32-36
- □ Passed Senate, July 2, 16-14
- □ Vetoed by Governor

VOTE 14: HB 3528 "SAGEBRUSH STRIP MALL"

HB 3528 would have legalized a convenience mart and RV park development built in violation of land use regulations, and allowed the developer to add a gas station. The development, termed the "Sagebrush Strip Mall" by conservationists, is located on land zoned for exclusive farm use at the intersection of state Highway 205 and the Malheur National Wildlife Refuge access road, which is the "Gateway to the Steens Mountain."

By offering special treatment to a single landowner, this bill would have encouraged a "build first, ask permission later" approach to development and encouraged more requests for the Legislature to pass inappropriate special legislation to bail out individuals who have ignored existing laws.

NO IS THE PRO-ENVIRONMENT VOTE.

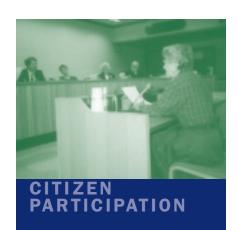

- □ Passed Senate, June 18, 19-11
- □ Passed House, June 20, 36-24
- □ Vetoed by Governor

VOTE 15: HB 2463 MORE HOUSES ON FARMLAND

HB 2463 is one of several special deals passed by the 2001 Legislature. This bill was crafted to allow one individual to build a third house on his farmland. While written to affect just one parcel, HB 2463 could affect an unknown number of other farm parcels around the state. The actual impacts won't be clear until the bill is implemented. This bill undermines farmland protections by establishing a loophole in Oregon land use laws and setting a bad precedent for special interest legislation.

NO IS THE PRO-ENVIRONMENT VOTE.

- □ Passed House, March 26, 31-26
- □ Passed Senate, May 16, 18-11
- ☐ Signed by Governor

VOTE 16: HB 3026 SCHOOLS OUTSIDE URBAN GROWTH BOUNDARIES

House Bill 3026 would have allowed public and private urban schools to be sited outside Urban Growth Boundaries (UGBs) on our most valuable farmlands. It also would have allowed the extension of urban infrastructure (sewer, water, roads, etc.) onto farmland to serve those schools. This would cause irreversible development on high value farmland, without any of the safeguards in current law. After the House vote, the bill was negotiated in the Senate and a compromise was reached that made the bill unnecessary.

NO IS THE PRO-ENVIRONMENT VOTE.

- □ Passed House, May 10, 32-27
- □ Died in Senate

CITIZEN PARTICIPATION

VOTE 17: HB 2460 SLAPP SUIT PROTECTIONS

In recent years, several Oregon citizens have been sued based on statements they have made in public opposing proposed developments. These lawsuits have generally failed but have served to intimidate future citizen involvement. Hence, they are called SLAPP suits - strategic lawsuits against public participation. Nineteen other states have passed laws to prevent SLAPP suits.

HB 2460 allows for early dismissal of these frivolous lawsuits. The original bill provided additional protections, such as the right to receive punitive damages as a result of the suit, but those were removed in the Senate. Despite this, HB 2460 is considered a victory for citizen participation.

YES IS THE PRO-ENVIRONMENT VOTE.

- □ Passed House, May 4, 50-8
- □ Passed Senate, June 1, 23-3
- □ Signed by Governor

ENERGY

VOTE 18: HB 3633 DELAY OF ENERGY RESTRUCTURING AND INVESTMENTS IN RENEWABLES

HB 3633 would have delayed implementation of the 1999 energy system "restructuring" law (SB 1149) by 18 months, including the setting aside of 3% of utility revenue for public purpose funding. This funding includes investments in conservation, renewable energy, and assistance for those with low incomes. The bill also would have given utilities the right to recover their costs for this 18 month delay. The results of a delay would have probably been an increase in consumer rates without the consumer protections provided by SB 1149 and without the money dedicated to public purposes. The bill was amended in the Senate into a good bill and passed.

The Oregon League of Conservation Voters' mission is to educate the public about the environmental voting records of elected officials and to hold those decision-makers accountable.

Whether the Willamette and other rivers will be safe for fishing, swimming, and drinking depends on how our legislators vote. In Vote 3, the House rejected a major effort to remove toxic contaminants from the Willamette. In Vote 4, the House passed a giveaway of our tax dollars to some of the largest polluters of the Willamette. How did your Representative vote?

Salem Mayor Mike Swaim introduces Governor John Kitzhaber at the May 14, 2001 Environmental Lobby Day, where more than 250 citizens traveled to the capitol to meet their legislators.

"Heroes are not statues framed against a red sky, they are people who say 'This is my community and it's my responsibility to make it better.'"

Former Governor Tom McCall

Now That You Know The Score.... Take One Simple Action. Or Take All Five!

What should you do? There are five important actions you can take:

Hold your legislators accountable if they voted with the polluting interests that worked to weaken Oregon's environmental safeguards. Send a short, polite note expressing your disapproval of their performance in Salem.

Thank your legislators if they voted to protect Oregon's environment. Those that resisted the strong pressure of special interest lobbyists deserve our thanks.

- Share the Scorecard with at least five friends and neighbors. Make sure they "Know the Score" of their Representative and Senator. Contact us for additional free copies. Let us know if you would like to host OLCV at a party or meeting to discuss the Scorecard and elections.
- Vote for pro-environment candidates at the local, state, and federal level. Contact us for information on OLCV endorsed candidates (endorsements are issued in late March).
- Join the Oregon League of Conservation Voters, the political arm of Oregon's environmental movement. Turn to the back page for membership information.
- Volunteer for a pro-environment candidate or get involved in your OLCV County Chapter. Turn to the back page for volunteer opportunities through OLCV on behalf of pro-environment candidates.

Oregon legislators are in regular session for the first six months of every odd numbered year. When the legislature is in session, you can contact your legislator through the citizen comment line 800-332-2313 (outside Salem) or 503-986-1187 (within Salem). Write your legislators at 900 Court St. NE, Salem, OR 97301.

The period between legislative sessions is called the interim. See the next page for the list of interim contact information for all Oregon Senators and Representatives.

To find out your district number and who represented you during the 2001 session, call OLCV at 503-224-4011 or call your county elections office (in the blue pages of the phone book).

After January 2002, when redistricting is complete, registered voters will receive a new voter registration card with your district and precinct information. If you don't receive a new card or have questions, call OLCV or your county elections office again.

PROTECT OUR ENVIRONMENT: JOIN AND VOLUNTEER WITH OLCV TODAY!

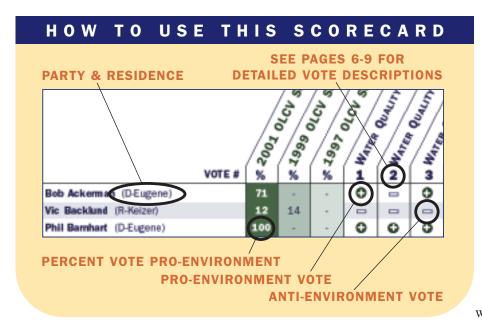

The Oregon League of Conservation Voters (OLCV) is the political arm of the environmental movement in Oregon. OLCV is supported by conservation-minded Oregonians who believe in using the political process to protect Oregon's environment. If you don't like the results of the 2001 Legislature, take action by joining and volunteering with OLCV. Your membership underwrites our programs to educate voters and hold elected officials accountable. While OLCV can't survive without your generous financial support, during election seasons we need your time too. Your volunteer hours make up the grassroots power needed to elect pro-environment candidates.

YES! I want to help educate voters and hold elected officials accountable. Here's my membership contribution to support the Oregon League of Conservation Voters:
□ $35 OLCV Member	☐ $50 OLCV Sponsor
□ $100 OLCV Sustainer	□ $200 OLCV Friend
☐ $500 Environmental Leadership Circle	☐ Other
Name	☐ My check payable to OLCV is enclosed.
Address	☐ Please charge my Visa or Mastercard.
City, State, Zip	Card #
Phone	Exp. Date
Email	Signature
Add me to SalemWatch, the once-a-month email update on legislative and agency action. YES! I'll take the next step. I'll get involved in OLCV's campaigns to elect pro-environment candidates (please check all activities you are interested in):
 help get out the pro-environment vote by phoning or handing out literature get involved in other county chapter projects (local scorecard research, event organizing, fundraising, media watch, endorsements and/or more) host a house party to support OLCV endorsed candidates write letters to the editor volunteer doing office work at OLCV
Please return this form to OLCV, 320 SW Stark, Suite 415, Portland, OR 97204

Since your contribution to OLCV supports programs that educate voters, hold elected officials accountable, and encourage political action to protect our environment, it is not tax-deductible.

Welcome to the Oregon League of Conservation Voters Scorecard for the 2001 Oregon Legislature!

It's time to find out who's looking out for our water and air, and who's not. We've been paying close attention to how your legislators vote, and here are the results.

Inside, you will find a vote chart that details how legislators voted on the 18 separate bills rated. You will also find descriptions of how those votes would impact our land, water, air, and wildlife.

The Oregon League of Conservation Voters has been producing a similar Scorecard every legislative session since 1973. It's important for voters to know who's really fighting to make sure we have a high quality of life, now and for generations to come.

For more information about OLCV, check out our web site at www.olcv.org.
